Description of Exhibition:

Our environmental exhibits are meant to not only celebrate the natural environment but meant to educate our community in various ways. To be an exhibitor, your organization should have a message, cause, product or service that addresses our community, the environment, our quality of life, or supports sustainable business or living practices. A visitor to your exhibit should come away knowing something that will inform their future actions, and further their commitment to a quality community, clean, healthy environment, and a sustainable future.
